Guide to the Index

To save space and cost, we have omitted from the index the following:

1. Names in family pictures in the family section, assuming that the interested reader could quickly locate a person of interest.

2. Names of children in school pictures, since with the school and year listed, a child could be located.

3. Names in alphabetized lists, which are in the index, as a quick scan of the list would show the researcher who is included.

4. Place names, unless in the vicinity, assuming that only area communities would interest the researcher.

5. Names on maps, because the researcher of a family would likely have an idea where the property was located.

For the family section, we indexed names only and only of the settler-parents and their childrens' spouses.

We did not include spouses if they are from those families included in the book.
